

Networking: You Never Know Who You're Talking To ...

Nancy Quinn
April 2010

I just had the most pleasant experience ..... A recent trip to Vegas is where this all starts. I know what happens in Vegas is supposed to stay there but this just can't!

We attended a business convention which ended with the most impressive awards and recognition I have ever experienced followed by a Duran Duran concert (proud to say I knew all the songs except one). What does a group of women do after all of that in Vegas ....Keep the party going of course. So we headed to the hotel lounge and enjoyed more of what the night had to bring. We found ourselves engaged in conversation with a group of gentlemen from Indianapolis. They were so impressed with our excitement and pretty dresses they had to ask, why? It didn't take long before one handed me a phone number

.... No, not his, but a girl he knew that also lived on Long Island. I was hesitant to call not knowing Him or Her.... I took the leap figuring I had nothing to lose. What an amazing conversation with a stranger that lives one town over, right down the block from a great friend of mine..... It's a small world!!

Through our ability to network, whether we know we are doing it or not you never know who you will meet and who they know and so on and so on .....

Her name is Gabrielle and she is currently enrolled at Hofstra Law studying to be a paralegal ..... no better place than here to ask if anyone knows of someone that is looking to fill an entry level position, she graduates in June and will be looking really soon! Gabrielle and I made an instant connection is it fate or just feeling good about helping someone else?

I look forward to meeting all of you at one time or another ..... Ladies please join us at Panera Bread, West Babylon, Monday April 5th either 11:30 or 6:30 and lets network together to see what good we can pass along.

For more info/ RSVP Nancy 516-852-2021 or nannyq@optonline.net and specify the time you will attend.